Year 4: Detail of content to be introduced (statutory requirement)
Word	The grammatical difference between plural and possessive –s Standard English forms for verb inflections instead of local spoken forms [for example, we were instead of we was , or I did instead of I done]
Sentence	Noun phrases expanded by the addition of modifying adjectives, nouns and preposition phrases (e.g. the teacher expanded to: the strict maths teacher with curly hair) Fronted adverbials [for example, Later that day, I heard the bad news.]
Text	Use of paragraphs to organise ideas around a theme Appropriate choice of pronoun or noun within and across sentences to aid cohesion and avoid repetition
Punctuation	Use of inverted commas and other punctuation to indicate direct speech [for example, a comma after the reporting clause; end punctuation within inverted commas: The conductor shouted, "Sit down!"] Apostrophes to mark plural possession [for example, the girl's name, the girls' names] Use of commas after fronted adverbials
Terminology for pupils	determiner pronoun, possessive pronoun adverbial

How can you help with reading at home?

"A little and often." Try to read with your child regularly. 15 -20 minutes, four times a week is much better than a long session only once a week..

"A time and a place." Find a quiet space to share books where you are both comfortable. Choose a time when you are not rushed and where your child is not tired.

"Read and talk." Discuss the book, its characters and events. Reading is about pleasure and understanding and your discussions can reinforce this. Teachers will send home suggested questions each term to prompt discussions

"What do you think about that?" Encourage your child to share their opinion. Do you agree with this author's opinion? Can you find evidence in the text to show the author's opinion?

"Read everything and anything." Encourage your child to read a range of texts. These might include newspapers, online texts, poetry, non -fiction books and comics. It's great to revisit the library if you haven't used it for a while.

"Mix it up." Sometimes your child may want to do all the reading; at other times it may be appropriate to share the reading. All children love to listen to stories and this is also a valuable and enjoyable learning experience. It is important to still listen to older readers, read aloud to help them with their phrasing and emphasis according to the punctuation.

"Is this reading?" Playing word games can help in mixing up reading time. Games like word association and pelmanism can help with vocabulary and new spellings..

"Know your child's reading habits" Children will start to become interested in series of books and perhaps trilogies. Try to make sure they keep some variety in their reading also
